REMARKS

In the Office action the Examiner indicated that the drawings that were received on February 10, 2006 are accepted except for Figs. 2 and 3. In this, the Examiner remarked, "The Figs. 2 and 3 of the drawings are objected to because the reference numbers which appear to be 54, 60 and 146 are not clear and unnecessarily confusing. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application."

In accordance with the Examiner's instructions, two sheets of replacement drawings are provided herein in the section, "Drawings" which have been corrected for the unclear and confusing numerals 54, 60 and 146 as required by the Examiner. No changes other than those identified and required by the Examiner have been made to those sheets of replacement drawings.

In the Office action, the Examiner also objected to the disclosure stating, "The disclosure is replete with the inconsistent and unnecessarily confusing use of a reference number as a subject of a sentence.", and indicated examples of correction that were to be made throughout the Description of the Preferred Embodiment section of the Specification.

In compliance with the Examiner's instructions, there is submitted herewith in the section entitled "Amendments to Specification" a marked-up version of the entire Specification section, "Description of the Preferred Embodiment" corrected for the confusing use of reference numbers throughout the entire section of the specification. In so doing, the proper, corresponding terms have also been inserted next to those reference numerals standing alone in sentences throughout the Description of the Preferred Embodiment, for consistency and clear understanding of the disclosure, as reflected in the Examiner's remarks.

In view of the fact that the amendments made throughout the Description of the Preferred Embodiment are extensive, and in accordance with the Rules concerning extensive amendments made to entire sections of a Specification, a clean copy version of the amended section, "Description of the Preferred Embodiments" is also enclosed.

From the foregoing it is believed that the applicant has correctly and properly attended to the Examiner's objections identified in the Office action and therefore it is understood that this case is now in proper condition for allowance and passage to issue in due course.

Respectfully submitted,
